Mrs. Thurow's Story.

Resuming the testimony, Mrs. Thurow stated that she was a dressmaker and lived since February last at 6 Bast Fourth street. Previously to that she had lived at 22 Second avenue for nine had lived at 22 Second avenue for nine with the last four years oould not get respectable people to take rooms so 1 kept it as a house of ill repute."

Mrs. Thurow went on to say that a few weeks after she began to rent rooms to girls she received a visit from the officer on the post. It was Capt. McCullaarh's precinct, the Fourteenth. "The officer told me that he noticed women coming in my place, and that I must stop it or there would be trouble." "Well, as I was saying." continued the witness, "the policeman came to me and told me that I ought to attend to the matter at once. I asked him how I should do it, and he said he would send Hissert around to see me, and I mill all about that later.

"After that he called every month, and I gave him $12. $13. $15 and once $20. Only four times in the four years I didn't have any money for him.
"He charged me $5 a month for every girl that lived in the house. He took the money in bills. Sometimes I gave him silver, but he preferred bills, because he didn't like to hear the coins clink. Bissert always came into my house to get the money. It was gives to him by me and we were always alone. My husband was never with me on any of these occasions."

Then Mrs. Therow went on to tell of her experience when Capt. Deberty took charge of the precinct.

"A new ward man came to see me about a week after the new Captain came in I was expecting him, for I had heard about others paying an initiation fee, and that they had raised the price a month.

This ward man's name was Barney Meehan. When he came to see me it told him I had no money to pay them and-put him off. He did not say anything about an initiation fee and went away.

IDENTIFIED BY A BROTHER.

Way to Rockland, Me.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., June 4.-A brother of Miss Lulu Erskine, the young woman who committed suicide on Saturday by walking from Flat Rock into the that of his sister, and he said that she was subject to fits of melancholy. He believes that she left home while suffering from one of these attacks, and could assign no other reason for her suicide. Erskine made a sworn statement before Coroner Apgar to this effect.

Hefore starting for Peekskill Erskine telegraphed his friends, H. B. Bird and W. H. Glover, who are students in the Peekskill Military Academy, to care for the body until his arrival. Coroner Apgar granted a permit for the removal of the body, and a casket containing the remains was placed aboard the 12.42 train for New York, en route for Rock-land. Me. The brother of the dead girl accompanied the remains. Coroner Apgar will hold an inquest this afternoon.

BOYS CRUSHED TO DEATH. The Carelessness of a Companion Costs Two Lives.

(By Associated Press.) SHEPHERDSVILLE, Ky., June 4.— Ed Horts and Tom Hart were killed near here Friday afternoon by the carelessness of Lee Eckert, a companion, with whom they had been playing. The three boys went to Huzzard Roost, a high bluft, and rolled large stones into the valley below. After enjoying the fun for a while Hortz and Hart went below to view the damage done.

While they were in the valley Eckert pried of a ledge of rock hanging on the brink, which went down with a tremendous crash, tearing down trees and shubbery and crushing the two boys to death. with whom they had been playing. The this country. He lives with his wife at 537 East Eighty-third street, and at times has been a waiter.

On the morning of the day Minnie Weidt was found strangled in bed, Jacobi got a drink on credit at Groda's saloon in East Eighty-fifth street. He said he was going to Staten Island to get work, and returned in the afternoon with plenty of money. He then shaved off his mustache and made three conflicting explanations for causing this change in his appearance.

The police have no proof that Jacobi even knew Minnie Weidt.

His suadenly coming into possession of money may be explained by Gretchen Husch's story. She says he called on her at 405 East Twenty-ninth street on the morning of the murder, and while she was out for beer stole $30 from her trunk. According to Gretchen, Jacobi visited her about the time that Mrs. Hoes, who lives in rooms opposite the Weidt apartments at 324 East Sixty-first streat, says the unknown man called on the murdered girl. Jacobi denies any acquaintance with Minnie Weidt.
